Word has just been received in Montpelier of the death in Denver, Colo., of Austin Kerin, a former well known and esteemed resident of Montpelier, who left that city for the West about 12 years ago. He had been ill for the past five years and members of his family feared a fatal termination of his disease. Previous to this time he had been in vigorous health, although 78 years of age. The remains are to be brought to Montpelier for interment in the Catholic cemetery, and it is expected that they will arrive the first of next week.
